A radical environmental proposal: A day of rest, May 1, 2020, Louisiana Baptist Message, Will Hall, Executive Editor

“ALEXANDRIA, La. (LBM)—Last week as environmentalists around the world celebrated Earth Day, I was intrigued by the potential of a biblical solution to the problem of air pollution: a day of rest.

Now, newly published information seems to bear out what should be obvious: A weekly day of rest could help keep the balance in the environmental system that God established to sustain man's physical existence.

Imagine the possible ecological improvements if there was an annual pause of 52 days as compared to the two weeks of inactivity measured for the study; and, instead of 52 days straight, what if the interruption was only one day each week?

Could something as simple as observing one day of rest for every six days of work make a difference in air quality and thus reduce the dire ecological impacts from pollution that many scientists predict for our world?

A day of rest is not a solution for the proliferation of plastics in the oceans, etc.

But when it comes to reducing airborne pollutants, one day off in seven seems to more than make sense, it is wisdom from above.”

This is exactly what Pope Francis promotes in Laudato Si – Care For Our Home – Sunday false Sabbath and Mass. It is another example of how Satan is using churches to promote Sunday worship. The mark of the beast is fast approaching (the enforcement of Sunday false Sabbath.) Sunday sabbath is a lie from Satan and his agents.

What does the Bible say about the truth?

Psalms 15:1-2

- 1 A Psalm of David. LORD, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?
- 2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.

Psalms 25:10

- 10 All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.

Psalms 86:15

15 But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

Psalms 119:151

151 Thou art near, O LORD; and all thy commandments are truth.

John 4:24

24 God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

John 8:32

32 And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

Who is the truth?

John 14:6

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

Satan, on the other hand, is the author and the father of lies.

John 8:44

44 Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

But we must be mindful that God always preserved His Truth even from the beginning of time. It is relevant for our world today.

Slides Even in the midst of the church apostasy centuries ago even until this day. God always has a faithful people who uphold the truth of the Bible.

Waldensians

For example, during the time of Dark Ages, during Papal Power, God's people known as the Waldensians stayed faithful to the truths of the Bible. They were located in Papal Rome's main stronghold in Italy north of the city of Rome in the Piedmont mountains. They were faithful to the teachings of Jesus and all of God's Ten Commandments including the seventh-day Sabbath. Even in the midst of deep persecution they went about sharing God's truth. Thousands of Waldensians were murdered by Papal Rome for truth's sake.

The Great Reformation

One of the great sparks that ignited the Protestant Reformation movement in the late 1300's was by the sincere Bible professor, John Wycliffe from England who God used to translate the New Testament and parts of the Old Testament in English. No longer were people blinded. Their eyes where now opened to truth and Papal Rome's false doctrines and motives where exposed. Papal Rome for years tried to kill John Wycliffe but God preserved his life until his mission was complete. After Wycliffe was laid to rest, Papal Rome's hatred of John Wycliffe was so great that 40 years after his death they dun up his bones and burned them! As a result of Wycliffe's work many others where inspired to follow truth, protest and expose the many deceptions of Papal Rome. Papal Rome did all it could to stamp out the truth, the more they killed, thousands more took their place.

Martin Luther

About 130 years later after the ministry of John Wycliffe, God raised up another bold reformer for Jesus Christ, Martin Luther. Martin Luther of Germany was a monk and professor of Papal Rome. Luther just wanted to reform the church of Rome with the truth of God's word. They rejected it. On October 31, 1517, one of most celebrated occasions for Catholic church when thousands came to the city of Wittenburg, Germany to celebrate, "All saints day", Luther boldly exposed the frauds of Papal Rome by nailing 95 points against the false doctrines of indulgences. The people there were shocked. Many convicted of the truth. This bold action of Luther was a major turning point in the Protestant movement. Papal Rome did all they could to stop the work and ministry of Luther but it went forward with POWER. It was literally unstoppable.

Luther's Missionary Schools

One of the greatest works in which God used Luther was the establishment of missionary schools all throughout Germany. The focus of these schools where on teaching the Bible, evangelism work, and practical useful skills in which students were not dependent on the world for support. There was an attitude that ALL succeed with NO classroom or student competition. The missionary schools were so successful in getting training and preparing its students for the great protestant movement. Almost all of Germany was reformed. There was no pomp and circumstance. There was not a degree system hierarchy. The main focus was on the protestant movement for Christ - removing the darkness of Papal Rome by shining the light of truth!

Papal Rome and the Jesuit movement

Papal Rome was losing its grip on Germany. Persecution and murder was not enough. During the time of the greatest growth of the protestant movement in Germany, Satan developed and employed one of Papal Rome's most feared, diabolical, secretive, insidious, corrupt, ruthless, and murderous orders of the Catholic church, the Jesuits, also known as the Society of Jesus.

Founded by Ignatius Loyola in 1534 to counteract the great protestant movement that was sweeping through Germany and many other parts of Europe and the world. The Jesuit order was developed as an undercover army. Its only and main objective was to destroy the Protestant reformation and return all back to the mother church of Rome. There power grew so big that they became known as the papacy over the papacy. They were known to murder popes. Popes fear them. In a brief period in their history they were prohibited.

Black Pope

The Jesuit's main leader in this undercover army is known as the Superior General, sometimes referred to as the "black pope" because of the black attire he wears. Today, many believe that the "black pope" really runs Papal Rome and the "white Pope" is just a puppet.

"Arturo Marcelino Sosa Abascal SJ (born 12 November 1948) is the thirty-first and present Superior General of the Society of Jesus. He was elected Superior General by the Society's 36th General Congregation on 14 October 2016, succeeding Adolfo Nicolás."- wikipedia

Remember the beast's character is...
Revelation 17:5

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

Total Submission

All members of the Jesuit order have to obey the Jesuit Oath "as a corpse." The main objective of the Jesuit Oath is to stop Protestantism at all cost. Nothing is too diabolical or evil in order to achieve the Jesuit Oath. Submission to the Papacy and the Superior General of the Jesuits is, according to Ignatius, meant to be absolute and removes personal opinions or wills: "Let us be convinced that all is well and right when the superior commands it," wrote Loyola. And again: "Even if God gave you an animal without sense as a master, you will not hesitate to obey him, as master and guide, because God ordained it to be so." Edmond Paris, The Secret History of the Jesuits (Chick Publications, 1975):

How did and how do the Jesuits counteract the protestant movement?

Since it was true missionary education that caused the protestant movement to grow at such a rapid pace the Jesuits employed a massive false educational plan. It had two main objectives, establish many Jesuit schools worldwide and secretly infuriate protestant education and churches. They did this by requiring all Jesuit members to become teachers. Many secretly enrolled in protestant schools and later became teachers in the protestant schools. Little by little they inserted Papal Rome's doctrine and ways into the schools. Pomp and circumstance, student classroom competition, grading system, the degree hierarchy, cramming, and needless course work was employed to weaken the protestant movement and the minds of its many students.

In general, a Jesuit will become whatever it needs to be in order to accomplish their goal. They successfully created many schools of learning worldwide that attracted even many protestants. They became protestant pastors and church leaders!

As Jesuits gained power they employed programs in which many members of the order became politicians, judges, and world leaders. They employed secretive assassination programs to get rid of world leaders.

Jesuits have a history of making vows to humility and poverty, but in actuality they are hungry for power and wealth.

Ellen White, The Great Controversy(Pacific Press Publishing, 1911): 234-235:

"Throughout Christendom, Protestantism was menaced by formidable foes. The first triumphs of the Reformation past, Rome summoned new forces, hoping to accomplish its destruction. At this time the order of the Jesuits was created, the most cruel, unscrupulous, and powerful of all the champions of popery. Cut off from earthly ties and human interests, dead to the claims of natural affection, reason and conscience wholly silenced, they knew no rule, no tie, but that of their order, and no duty but to extend its power. The gospel of Christ had enabled its adherents to meet danger and endure suffering, undismayed by cold, hunger, toil, and poverty, to uphold the banner of truth in face of the rack, the dungeon, and the stake. To combat these forces, Jesuitism inspired its followers with a fanaticism that enabled them to endure like dangers, and to oppose to the power of truth all the weapons of deception. There was no crime too great for them to commit, no deception too base for them to practice, no disguise too difficult for them to assume. Vowed to perpetual poverty and humility, it was their studied aim to secure wealth and power, to be devoted to the overthrow of Protestantism, and the re-establishment of the papal supremacy.

When appearing as members of their order, they wore a garb of sanctity, visiting prisons and hospitals, ministering to the sick and the poor, professing to have renounced the world, and bearing the sacred name of Jesus, who went about doing good. But under this blameless exterior the most criminal and deadly purposes were often concealed. It was a fundamental principle of the order that the end justifies the means. By this code, lying, theft, perjury, assassination, were not only pardonable but commendable, when they served the interests of the church. Under various disguises the Jesuits worked their way into offices of state, climbing up to be the counselors of kings, and shaping the policy of nations. They became servants to act as spies upon their masters. They established colleges for the sons of princes and nobles, and schools for the common people; and the children of Protestant parents were drawn into an observance of popish rites. All the outward pomp and display of the Romish worship was brought to bear to confuse the mind and dazzle and captivate the imagination, and thus the liberty for which the fathers had toiled and bled was betrayed by the sons. The Jesuits rapidly spread themselves over Europe, and wherever they went, there followed a revival of popery.

To give them greater power, a bull was issued re-establishing the inquisition. Notwithstanding the general abhorrence with which it was regarded, even in Catholic countries, this terrible tribunal was again set up by popish rulers, and atrocities too terrible to bear the light of day were repeated in its secret dungeons. In many countries, thousands upon thousands of the very flower of the nation, the purest and noblest, the most intellectual and highly educated, pious and devoted pastors, industrious and patriotic citizens, brilliant scholars, talented artists, skillful artisans, were slain or forced to flee to other lands.

Such were the means which Rome had invoked to quench the light of the Reformation, to withdraw from men the Bible, and to restore the ignorance and superstition of the Dark Ages. But under God's blessing and the labors of those noble men whom He had raised up to succeed Luther, Protestantism was not overthrown.

Ellen White, The Great Controversy(Pacific Press Publishing, 1911): 234-235:

Great Jesuit Target – AMERICA!

America was founded on protestant principals. Many escaped the tyranny of Papal Rome in Europe to America for religious freedom. After 1798 when Papal Rome lost its world dominance, protestant America was growing. As a result around the 1830's America was the leader of the great awakening and advent movement. They defied any interference from Rome. Even though Rome lost its political power in 1798 as a result of the French Revolution, they were still at work on their objective to get rid of the protestant movement. One of their greatest targets in the 19th century until now is America, "The Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave".

In the 19th and early 20th centuries Papal Rome was not allowed to roam and have influence in America.

John Adams (1735-1826; 2nd President of the United States):

"Shall we not have regular swarms of them here, in as many disguises as only a king of the gypsies can assume, dressed as painters, publishers, writers, and schoolmasters? If ever there was a body of men who merited eternal damnation on earth and in hell it is this Society of Loyola's." As quoted in George Riemer, The New Jesuits (Boston, Massachusetts: Little, Brown, & Co., 1971): xiv, and René Fülöp-Miller, Power and Secret of the Jesuits(Kessinger Press, 1997): 390.

But it was the Jesuits who were fueling the south in the Civil War against the north. They are suspected to have been responsible in the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln not long after the passage of the Emancipation Proclamation that outlawed slavery. Also, they were even suspected in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy who was one of their own Catholics.

How were the Jesuits able to infiltrate America?

They were not only able to teach in American protestant schools but they established many Jesuit schools in American. Matter of fact, there are currently 28 Jesuit universities in America! For example: Georgetown University is a Jesuit school right in our nation's capital!

They have been able to infiltrate all American denominations because ALL of their educational systems are ordered exactly like the Jesuit false educational system. It is very easy to infiltrate American church leadership today via the Masters and PhD programs.

How successful have the Jesuits' been in influencing American politics?
Just look at the facts (<http://www.scu.edu/news/features.cfm?c=9340>)

According to the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities (AJCU), about "ten percent of the 116th U.S. Congress are Jesuit college and university alumni. Among the 535 members of this Congress, 55 are alumni of Jesuit institutions." A significant number of Congress members are Jesuit trained irregardless of party, Democrat or Republican.

There are 12 Jesuit alumni in the Senate and 43 in the House of Representatives..

"With the many challenges facing our nation, we are happy that our Jesuit college and university alumni continue to play important roles in Congress and the Administration," said AJCU President Fr. Charles Currie,S.J. "Their commitment to lead and to serve is in the best Jesuit tradition.

Few top positions in the Trump Administration

Many of the Trump administration's inner circle, advisers, and cabinet are Jesuit-trained and devout Catholics. For example, President Donald Trump received Jesuit training at Fordham University for two years. First Lady Melania Trump is a Catholic. Vice President Mike Pence identifies himself as an "evangelical Catholic." Kellyanne Conway, counselor to Trump, and Andrew Bremburg, Assistant to the President, are devout Roman Catholics. The following are Jesuit-trained at Georgetown University: David Malpass, President of the World Bank ; John "Mick" Mulvaney, Director of Office of Management and Budget; Andrew P. Bremberg is an American lawyer and political aide currently serving as Permanent Representative of the United States of America to the Office of the United Nations and Other International Organizations in Geneva. Thomas J. Reese, a Jesuit priest, is the Chair of the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom.

American politics have been deeply infiltrated by the Jesuits. One of the greatest Jesuits acts that has been mesmerizing the world is Pope Francis, Papal Rome's first Jesuit Pope. He takes direct orders from the black pope.

On September 24, 2015 the first Jesuit Pope Francis was able for the first time in American history to speak to Congress - our nation's lawmakers. The invitation was given by John Boehner the former Congressman who was the first Jesuit alumnus to serve as the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Missionary, an old Catholic publication, in June 1909 says, "Many nonCatholics fear us as a political organization and are afraid that the Catholic Church will dominate and rule; we are working quietly, seriously and I may say effectively, to that end." - M.R. Grant, Americanism vs. Roman Catholicism. Gulfport, MA: Truth Publishing, 1921, p. 29

The Shepherd of the Valley, the official journal of the Bishop of St. Louis, November 23, 1851 edition reports, "If Catholics ever gain a sufficient numerical majority in this country, religious freedom is at an end-so our enemies say - so we believe." - Thompson, Slason and Hobart C. Taylor, America: Journal For Americans, Volume 2, Chicago: Slason Thompson and Co Publishers, 1889, p. 82

The Jesuits motives have NOT changed, they are still the same. American politics have officially rejected Protestantism and embraced Papal Rome. Modern evangelical churches, who love Papal Rome, are being set up to make an image to the beast. I believe that this is the real reason for the worldwide lock-down over Covid-19. Prophecy is being fulfilled quickly.

Jeremiah 13:23

23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil.
